CASE LAW

Rule 8-A- As amended by Karnataka Minor Mineral Concession (Amendment) Rules, 1995, Rule 8-A- Quarrying lease-Grant of Rule requiring State Government to notify in official gazette, availability of land for grant – and fix date from which such area shall be available for grant-Application for grant of quarrying lease of area not notified as available for lease can be rejected as premature- Rule provides for transparency in matter of grant of quarrying lease and affords opportunity to all persons interested to make applications – Not ultra vires rule-making power of State Government and not unreasonable or violative of Article 14 of Constitution.

Held- It is a matter of ordinary prudence that unless the Government would have made it known to the public at large regarding the availability of the lands for grant of quarrying leases under any of the three circumstances referred to in Rule 8-A(1) it would have been difficult to have the knowledge of the same to an aspirant for the purpose, unless, the person interested had the links and sources to acquire the same through bureaucratic linkage. Such a procedure being not transparent was amenable to abuses and manipulation. It is in keeping in view these aspects that the impugned-Rule 8-A appears to have been interested. So that the lands of the Government which falls available for grant of quarrying leases, applications could be filed by each and every interested person without requiring to trace any private source or links to acquire the knowledge for the same. The provisions on its very fact are more reasonable and in a closer proximity to a desired public policy and interest. Such a measure cannot in any way be held as opposed to reasonableness and equality clause, Article.14 of Constitution of India... Rule 8-A merely provided for a condition precedent for filing of application for grant of quarrying lease, in as much as unless the Government notifies the areas in the Official Gazette specifying the date being not earlier than 30 days from the date of publication of such notification, the applications filed for grant of quarrying lease cannot be considered as valid and entertainable. It is only the applications which are filed after the expiry of the said date, which will qualify for consideration and grant of mining lease keeping in view the priority rule provided under rules 12 and 23 of the rules- B.S. CASE LAW

Rules 8-N and 31-A- Quarrying lease- Grant of by tender-cum-auction – Quantum of particular mineral available to be quarried in land to be leased must be precisely stated in auction notification in order to enable, not only bidders to offer bids but also authority to know whether offer made by bidder is reasonable- Where, without making survey, notification for leasing out 29 acres of land for quarrying black granite was issued giving impression that said mineral deposit was embedded in entire area and when ir was found, after survey; made subsequent to lease, that black granite deposit was available only in 12 of 29 acres leased out, lessee is entitled to be compensated or in alternative to repudiate contract of lease.

Held- The whole dispute has arisen due to the difference in the area embedded with of minerals assumed to be available as per auction notification by the petitioner from what exactly was found available in the area..... When Rule 8-B authorises the grant of quarrying lease for specified /non specified minor minerals, it also contemplates describing of the area which is sought to be leased. Rule 31-A(1) and (2) specifically contemplates the description of that area with extent and boundaries so as to identify the area which has the minor minerals. Schedule I reckons dead rent on the basis of acreage.

Essentially, the dead rent is to be reckoned with reference to the area occupied by the minor mineral. The quantum of dead rent under Rule-31-F(2) is worked out on the basis of Rule 31-A(a) notification. In such cases, it is normal to expect that the lessor has an idea of the commodity being leases so as tie assess whether the value offered is just. It is only on that basis that the dead rent is fixed. Therefore, when the lessor notified the area for which the dead rent is to be fixed, again it is conveying of the relevant information to the bidder to enable him to fix the bid amount. It that be so, it is reasonable to assume that an intending bidder forms a reasonable conclusion on the basis of the details furnished and held out in the public notification..... Leased out by the State. At that stage of leasing, it is only to be assumed that the lessor alone will be in possession of the details of the commodity that is being offered for quarrying. The details to be included in the notification as provided in Rule-8-B read with Rule 31 A(1) makes it abundantly clear that the lessor is clearly holding out to the prospective lease as to what is the material that is being offered as per the quarrying lease. By providing to indicate the boundaries the statue enjoins the lessor to be precise as to the extent of the area where the minor mineral is found and is intended to be quarried. There is thus a clear representation made by the State regarding the existing state of affairs of the quantum of minor minerals being auctioned By the notification issued under Rule-31A, the respondents are holding what they proposes to transfer by lease in the matter of lease of minor mineral.... Notification in clear terms, indicates that Sl.No 1 carved out Sy.No. 248 has black granite deposit in 29 acres. The respondents are auctioning very precious minor mineral. It should, in the first place, know what is the value of the commodity being sold. The respondents should first be in a know what should be the reasonable price to be fetched so that it is in a position to know whether the offer made by the intending bidder position to oreasonable. It means, it is to be implied that what it holds out is the orrect information to enable the bidder to make a correct inference. It is not to be expected by a bidder that the State, like an unscrupulous buninessman, would be trying to gain an undue advantage over the dder by practising "suppressio veri and "suggestio falsi"The Spetitioner has made out clearly that his offer of Rs. 60.10 lakhs had acres of land. If thaf is concluded as an ieen for .the lease of 29 a enforceable contract, inyoking the principles of promissory estoppel, then nscessarily the relief prayed for has to be granted Para 2 of Section 56 of reads: "Where one person has promised to do something which he knew, or, with reasonable diligence, might have gom nown, and which, the promisee did not know, to be impossible or inlawful, such promisor must make compensation to such promisee for any loss which such promisee sustains through the non-performance of tle promise". The respondents held out to lease 29 acres, of black granite hlis, the respondents could have known by reasonable diligence, aş impossible, but the petitioner would not have considered the same to be imposible to be granted, In such circumstances; the petitioner has ut a case for the grant of the alternative relief, ie., refund of Rs. 59.50 akhs with Bank interest prevalent on Fixed Deposits as on the date of deposit of the amount with the respondents. This relief has to be granted as other wise this Court will be becoming an instrument make an unconscionable gain. The petitioner is entitled to the alternate only in the event the respondents decline, to grant the prayer and fail make good the entire 29 acres of black granite as auctioned. Tam

The respondents should first be in a position to know what should be the reasonable price to be fetched so that it is in a position to know whether the offer made by the intending bidder 'is reasonable. It means, it is to be implied that what it holds out is the correct information to enable the bidder to make a correct inference It is to be expected by a bidder that the State, like an unscrupulous lbualnessman, would be trying to gain an undue advantage over the bidder by practising "suppressio veri" and suggestio falsi" The petiltioner has made out clearly that his offer of Rs.60.10 lakhs had been for the lease: of 29 acres of land. If that is concluded as an enforceable contract, inyoking the principles of promissory estoppel, then necessarily the relief prayed for has to be granted para 2 of section 56 of the Contract Act reads: "Where one person has promised to do something which he knew, or, with reasonable diligence, might have known, and which, the promisee did not know, to be impossible or wiewful, such proimisor must make compensation to such promisee for any loss which such promisee sustains through the non-performance of the promise". The respondents held out to lease 29 acres of black granite This, the respondents could have known by reasonable diligence, as impossible,-but the petitioner would not have considered the same to be Impossible to be granted. In such circumstances,"the petitioner has made out a case for the grant of the alternative relief, i.e, refund of Rs.59.50 lakhs with Bank interest prevalent on Fixed Deposits as on the date of deposit of the amount with the respondents. This relief has to be granted, otherwise, this Court will be becoming an instrument to the Government make an unconscionable gain. The petitioner is entitled to the alternate relief, only in the event the respondents decline to grant the prayer and. fail make good the entire 29 acres of black granite as auctioned.. Tam

Rules 9(2), 12, 15 and 57-Granite Conservation and Development Rules, 1999 (GCDR 1999), Rule 7- Quarry lease- Granted for 54 acres On renewal reduced to 10 acres _ Not set up 100 % export oriented granite cutting and polishing unit- Held, the renewal order for only 10 acres of land is proper

Vikramajit Sen, C.J. and Mrs. B.V. Nagarathna, J., Held: On 15-3-1982 a Quarry Lease pertaining to Survey No. 421 of Maralabbe Kuppe Village of Kanakapura Taluk, Bangalore Rural District, Karnataka, andmeasuring 54 acres came to be granted in favour of the petitioner/appellant for a period of ten years. The Appelant, as per Rule 9(2) of the Karnataka Minor Mineral Concession Rules, 1994 (hereafter referred to as KMMCR 1994') applied within the prescribed time, on 12-2-2002, for the renewal there of. On 21-11-2002 the Respondents accorded a reniewal of the lease, however restricting it to an extent of 10 acres only as against the while 54 acres That it is the Granite Conservation and Development Rules, 1999 (a Parliamentary as also be a later enactment renders the KMMCR 1994 ineffectual). Rule 15 of the KMMCR 1994-(supra)'stipulates-that.the maximum area that can be granted for a quarry lease cannot exceed 50 acres in case of an existing hundred per cent export oriented granite cutting and polishing, unit; and 40 acres in case of other granite cutting and polishing units (see supra). Since the petitioner does not fall in either, it is entitled only to ten acres terefore, both GCDR 1999 as well as KMMC 1994 can coexist since their provisions are not repugnant or incompatible to each other. learned Single Judge in the impugned Order has held that "the.. petioner's application for renewal of lease requires to be considered on the basics pf the priorities.in rule 12 Since the renewal tantamounts a fresh grant, irrespective of the time of grant ie., when with respect to a grant made prior to KMMCR Rules, the State Government is duly empowered to consider the extent of land. So far as the petitioner is concenred, it is not his case that he is entitled to 50 acres, possibly because he has not set up hundred per cent export oriented granite cutting and polishing unit. It is also not his case that he is entitled to 40 acres because he has established a granite cutting and polishing unit. Therefore, in our opinion, the grant of a lease for 10 acres as against are while 54 acres is totally justified and reasonable.. . The Court now in a piquant position since the impugned order of the Government has been quashed in the impugned decision of the learned Single Judge but it is not the State of Karnataka which has come up in appeal. Therefore, in the absence of an appeal, the impugned decision would have to be reconsidered by the Government in the light of our observations made above. T.R. Narayanaswamy v State of Karnataka Another, 2013(1) Kar. L.J. 14 (DB).

Rule 11 Grant of quarrying licence Petitioner-licensee for extraction of stone in land applied for renewal of mining lease Authorities rejected application for renewal on ground thatland-is gomal land and renewal of lease cannot be granted Rejection challenged in writ petition Single Judge held that lease cannot be granted in gomal land and dismissed writ petition Aggrieved licensee preferred appeal Held Renewal application rejected only on basis that Govemment prohibited granting quarrying lease on gomal land - Question whether land leased to petitioner is a, gomal land or not has not af all been considered while rejecting application Without considering this question application could not have been rejected Rejéction is clearly illegal -Rejection set aside Remitted back to authorities for fresh evaluation

P.D. Dinakaran, CJ and V.G. Sabhahit, J., Held: Aggrieved by the order passed by the authorities, wher in the application of the petitioner for renewal of mining lease granted for extraction of building stone in the land has been rejected. Contended that without application of mind and without following the procedure under the Karnataka Minor Mineral Concession Rules, 1994, authorities mechanically issued endorsement stating that the area wherein the petitioner is seeking for renewal of quarrying lease is coming under gomal land and, no grant can be made and as such, the quarrying lease of the petitioner cannot be renewed for a further period. It is averred that leased area granted in favour of the petitioner is not a gomal land and the impugned order rejecting the renewal of application for renewal of lease on the ground that renewal of lease cannot be made on the gomal land is illegal and liable to be set aside. Learned Single Judge held that renewal of lease carnnot be granted in a gomal land and therefore, the impugned order is justified and that there was no merit in the writ petition and accordingly dismissed the writ petition. Being aggrieved by the said order dismissing the writ petition, writ petitioner has preferred this appeal...... .It is clear from the perusal of order impugned in the writ petition that the renewal application of the petitioner has been rejected only on the basis of the Govemment order which prohibits grant of quarrying lease in gomal land and the question as to whether the land which is leased to the petitioner for quarrying is a gomal land or not has not at all beern considered while passing the impugned order. While issuing the impugned endorsement, authorities has not at all considered as to whether the leased area granted in favour of the petitioner is a gomal land or not and without considering the said question, the authorities could not have rejected the application on the ground that the application for quarrying lease in a gomal land, cannot be granted and therefore, the impugned endorsement passed by the authoritiesis clearly illegal and the game is liable to be set aside and remitted back for passing fresh orders, in accordance with law. The impugned endorsement cannot be sustained and the same is liable to be set aside without liberty to the authorities to take appropriate action in accordance with law. The impugned endorsement rejecting renewal of quarrying lease of the petitioner is quashed and Senior Geologist for passing fresh orders on the application for renewal of quarrying lease by evaluating the application independently and strictly in accordance with law.
